After years in the making, Miles Nelson is pleased to announce the launch of our new commercial range.

Go to www.miles-nelson.com for your catalogue!

We've used our 90 years of experience in residential hardware to develop and design this new range from the ground up.

The range includes a wide variety of standard door mechanisms including, fire rated mortice locks, door hinges, deadbolts, locksets & handles, strikes, door closers and accessories which are all suitable to secure businesses, schools, community buildings and even residential homes.

The MNC range has been constructed of heavy-duty metal designed to endure additional wear and tear from heavy usage, cycle tested, fire rated and provides added security to your building or home. There is a full range of functions available to cover any project specification supported by our in-house technical expertise.

Included in this range are brand new Miles Nelson designs which offer handles with easy fit retro in mind that will cover most common furniture plate sizes and screw fix spacings, a quick handing change design on wide body door furniture and a through fix option for round rose accessories. The range also includes wide and narrow style mortice lock options that are easily adaptable to suit card access handle escutcheons.

A full catalogue is available now at www.miles-nelson.com which includes easy to order kit options for simple project ordering to enable a door by door supply option.
